California Sentencing Reform

All Those Propositions

FDAP
FIRST DISTRICT APPELLATE PROJECT

Proposition 47 – the "Safe Neighborhoods and Schools Act"

- Reduced certain theft & drug possession offenses to misdemeanors
- PC § 490.2: "obtaining any property by theft" where value $950 or less shall be petty theft
- PC § 459.5: shoplifting as entry of any business w/ intent to commit larceny during business hours
- PC § 1170.18 re petitions to recall or redesignate felony to misdemeanor

Romanowski (2017) 2 Cal.5th 903: Theft is Theft

- Theft of access card information (credit or debit card info) – Pen. Code § 484e(d)
- Trial court denied D's Prop 47 petition, Court of Appeal reversed
- Does § 490.2 apply?

Quick Answer: Yes!

- "Notwithstanding Section 487 or any other provision of law defining grand theft, obtaining any property by theft . . ."

- 490.2's unqualified references to "obtaining any property by theft" and "any … provision of law defining grand theft" encompass theft of access card information.

How to Determine Value of $950 or Less?

- Per PC § 484(a), Value = "reasonable or fair market value"
- The Plastic Card is not the object to be valued – access card info is a form of intangible property
- How much would the info sell for, even on the black market?
- Burden is on Petitioner to show value
- Hearing on value appropriate if can show reasonable likelihood of relief

Entry with Intent to Steal: Burglary under § 459 or Shoplifting under § 459.5?
People v. Gonzales (2017) 2 Cal.5th 858

- Defendant petitioned for recall of burglary conviction based on entering a bank to cash a stolen check. Denied. Court of Appeal affirmed.

- Supreme Court: any act of shoplifting can only be charged as shoplifting.

Theft is Theft, Whatever its Form

- Theft as defined by §§ 484 & 490a = property stolen by larceny, false pretenses, or embezzlement.
- Court rejects AG's position that shoplifting is limited to colloquial understanding of theft of tangible goods
- § 459.5 now defines shoplifting as entry with intent to steal, not the taking of an item

- § 459.5 requires any act of shoplifting to be charged as such – precludes charge of commercial burglary

- D eligible for Prop 47 resentencing if can show no disqualifying prior super strikes or sex offenses and entry with intent to cash stolen check to obtain less than $950.

- Burglary lies only if proof of entry to commit non-theft felony, or theft of property worth more than $950

Vehicle Code §10851 – Prop 47 Eligible?

People v. Page (2017) 3 Cal.5th 1175

- Grand Theft Auto (PC § 487(d)) eligible for resentencing if vehicle worth $950 or less
- Mere driving or taking without intent to permanently deprive (joyriding) is not theft and thus not eligible for Prop 47 reduction
- But, taking with intent to permanently deprive is vehicle theft.

§ 1170.18 – recall if crime would have been a misdemeanor had Prop 47 been in effect at the time of the crime

- After Prop 47, "obtaining any property by theft" is petty theft if worth ≤$950 (§ 490.2)
- List of statutes in § 1170.18 (in accordance with 11350, 495.5, etc.) not intended to limit eligibility
- § 490.2 applies – defendants can seek resentencing in accordance with that section

VC § 10851 – driving or taking?

- Theft of a vehicle is a form of grand theft
- Theft where vehicle worth $\leq$ \$950 = petty theft, punishable as a misdemeanor, regardless of how charged (Penal Code vs. Vehicle Code offense)
- D's burden to show not just value, but also conviction was based on theft of the vehicle, rather than on post-theft driving or taking without intent to permanently deprive

- Where evidence shows “substantial break” between the taking and the driving, conviction of VC § 10851can be based on post-theft driving

- Where factual basis shows “substantial break,” D will not be able to establish eligibility under §1170.18

- But, Defendants not categorically ineligible for relief, remanded without prejudice to file new petition alleging facts establishing eligibility

Priors Later Reduced – Timing is Everything -- People v. Call (2017) 9 Cal.App.5th 856

- D found guilty of drug offenses and three §667.5(b) priors found true.
- Prior to sentencing, D's pending Prop 47 petition granted and underlying priors were reduced to misdemeanors.
- D moved to strike the § 667.5(b) priors – denied. Appeal.

§ 1170.18(k): "Shall be considered a misdemeanor for all purposes" shows intent to treat as misdemeanors going forward

- Imposing enhancement after prior had been reduced to a misdemeanor is contrary to voter intent.
- True even if the prior felony had not been reduced prior to the commission of the current offenses.
- Priors no longer felonies at time of sentencing, so §667.5(b) enhancements stricken

But the Shoe Can be on the Other Foot

- § 1170.18, subdivision (i) – no resentencing if D has prior conviction for a "super strike" under § 667(e)(2)(C)(iv) or 290(c) registration sex offense

- People v. Casillas (2017) 13 Cal.App.5th 745
  - D had 2006 prior felony drug conviction
  - 2013 convicted of attempted murder (super strike)
  - "Prior conviction" under 1170.18(i) means any conviction suffered prior to the ruling on the petition
  - 2015 – D moves for Prop 47 reduction – Denied. Court of Appeal affirms.

Prop 47 – Still No Word on Retroactive Effect on a § 667.5(b) Prior

- § 667.5(b) prior prison term enhancements imposed, but the offense on which the prior based later reduced to a misdemeanor per Prop 47
- Does the misdemeanor reduction undermine the validity of the previously-imposed enhancement?
- People v. Valenzuela, rev granted March 30, 2016, S232900 – still waiting for the Court's decision
- Most courts have held § 1170.18 does not apply retroactively to invalidate a § 667.5(b) enhancement (Johnson, Jones, Carrea, Williams)

Three Strikes Sentences – Disqualified as "Super Strikes?"

- No Prop 47 relief if have a prior "super strike" or sex registration-eligible offense – § 1170.18(i)
- Super Strikes listed in § 667(e)(2)(C)(iv) – includes various sex offenses, any homicide, possession of weapons of mass destruction, etc.
- § 667(e)(2)(C)(iv)(VIII) – any serious or violent felony punishable by life imprisonment or death
- Is a 25-to-life Three Strike term a Super Strike?

NO! People v. Hernandez (2017) 10 Cal.App.5th 192 (Panel Atty Carla Castillo)

- D convicted of robbery, petty theft with a prior, and two strike priors in 1997
- 25-to-life on the robbery under Three Strikes
- 2015, D moved for resentencing on the petty theft
- Trial court denied petition because the prior robbery was punishable by life imprisonment

Hernandez: Robbery is not a Super Strike

- Under Prop 36, 25-to-life Three Strikes terms limited to cases where the current offense is also a serious or violent felony.
- But added §667(e)(2)(C)(iv) list of super strikes making D ineligible for Prop 36 relief
- Super strikes are only offenses that carry their own punishment of life imprisonment or death
- Robbery does not convert to a super strike merely because D has two prior strikes
- Remand for court to determine whether D posed unreasonable risk of danger to public safety in order to determine whether Prop 47 relief warranted

What does "unreasonable risk of danger to public safety" mean?

- For both Prop 36 and Prop 47, court must grant for eligible D's unless court finds petitioner would pose unreasonable risk of danger to public safety.

- No definition of that term in Prop 36 when enacted in 2012

- 2014, Prop 47 enacted and included a definition:
  - § 1170.18(c) – "as used throughout this code," unreasonable risk . . . means petitioner will commit a new violent felony within meaning of § 667(e)(2)(C)(iv) – a super strike!

  - Prop 47 petitioners get relief unless court finds D likely to commit a future super strike

People v. Valencia (2017) 3 Cal.5th 347

- H: Prop 47 did not amend Prop 36
- § 1170.18(c)'s definition is applicable only to Prop 47 petitions

- Concedes "as used throughout this code" preamble in § 1170.18(C) could support different interpretation, but says its interpretation is better

- Court relies on lack of indication in Prop 47 that definition was meant to also apply to Prop 36, either within the statute or in the ballot materials

- And, no equal protection, due process or 8th Amendment problem either; leaves determination of unreasonable risk of danger to trial court's discretion

LET'S HAVE SOME RETRO – ACTIVITY!

SB 620 – Firearm Enhancements are Subject to Dismissal!

- Jan. 1, 2018, §12022.5(c) & §12022.53(h) effective
- Grants sentencing courts discretion under § 1385 to strike or dismiss a firearm enhancement
- AG concedes! At least mostly . . .
- Courts have uniformly found new law applies to any case not yet final on appeal per Estrada and Francis

Two Published Cases Finding Retroactive

People v. Robbins, E066284, 4th Dist., Div. 2, Jan. 19, 2018

- Court reversed § 12022.53 25-to-life firearm enhancement, directed resentencing on it
- AG conceded retroactivity of SB 620

People v. Woods, C081813, 3rd Dist., 1-26-18

- Court remands § 12022.53 firearm enhancement for court to exercise discretion whether to strike it
- AG conceded retroactivity

First District Also Finds Retroactive

- People v. Powell, A149038, Div. 5 (Panel Atty Cliff Gardner)
  - D shoots and kills 2 teenage girls
  - LWOP + 65 to life for 1st° & 2nd° Murder, a special circumstance and personal use of firearm causing death or GBI
  - AG agrees SB620 applies to cases not final, BUT argues harmless because no indication judge would have dismissed the firearm enhancements
  - Court says Legislative History shows legislature wants sentencing judges to decide
  - Court finds trial judge should exercise 1385 discretion in the first instance
- People v. Johnson, A140841, Div. 2 (Panel Atty Barry Karl)
  - AG again argues harmless because trial court would impose
  - Court: remand for resentencing because already remanding on other issues anyway

§12022.53(d) Enhancements – Hedge the Remedy?

- §12022.53 Punishable in 3 different ways:
- (b) (personal use) = 10 years
- (c) (personal discharge) = 20 years
- (d) (personal discharge resulting in death or GBI = 25-to-life

- If AG argues imposition harmless, reply fall-back could be trial court must exercise § 1385 discretion because court could choose to strike the §(d) 25-to-life and impose either the §(c) personal discharge or §(b) personal use enhancement instead

Final on Appeal? No SB 620 Relief Unless Resentenced for Some Other Reason

- Statute says relief granted "applies to any resentencing that may occur pursuant to any other law."

- If defendant can get back in front of trial court for resentencing (habeas remand?, Prop 47 petition?), then also entitled to move for dismissal of the firearm enhancement.

HS § 11370.2 Prior Narcotic Conviction Enhancement

- SB 180 amends and abolishes HS § 11370.2 prior narcotic conviction enhancement for all except those who induce a minor to be involved in the current drug crime

- AG not contesting retroactivity – see People v. Burnell, G055198 (unpublished, Feb. 2, 2018)

- Court of Appeal does not remand for resentencing, strikes the 3-year enhancement

More Retroactivity – No Direct File of Minors in Adult Court

- In re Lara, S241231, Feb. 1, 2018
- Prop 57 prohibits charges being direct-filed against minors in adult court, requires W&I 707 juvenile court transfer hearing to move into adult criminal court
- Prop 57 reduces possible punishment for minors
- Estrada inference of retroactivity applies

Lara – What's the Remedy Where Minor Already Convicted in Adult Court?

- Direct file in Adult Criminal Court – convicted, now you represent the defendant/minor on appeal
- What is the remedy following Lara?
- Best guess: appellant entitled to remand for belated post-conviction fitness hearing under § 707
- If found unfit to be tried as an adult, adult conviction & sentence overturned
- Juvenile disposition hearing then held

More on Minors – PC 3051 Expands Youthful Offender Parole Eligibility to LWOP

- Miller v. Alabama prohibits LWOP for minors
- Graham v. Florida instructs states to figure out how to comply
- Legislature enacts PC § 3051 providing for youthful offender parole hearings
- But original version did not apply to LWOP

§ 3051 – First 18, then 23, now 25

- SB 394 amends § 3051 to apply to offenders under the age of 25 when non-LWOP crime committed
  - (b)(1) – minor 25 or younger with determinate term eligible for parole hearing during 15th year of incarceration
  - (b)(2) – minor 25 or younger with less than 25-to-life term eligible after 20 years
  - (b)(3) – minor 25 or younger with 25-to-life term eligible during 25th year
- Adds (b)(4) – LWOP terms eligible for parole hearing during 25th year
- BUT – only for those 18 or younger at time of the crime

And Finally . . . . Prop 64 &

- Prop 64 legalized some and reduced punishment for certain other marijuana offenses
- HS § 11361.8 provides mechanism for seeking misdemeanor reduction
- Crimes set forth in the statute do not limit eligibility ("in accordance with sections . . . (sub-§§(a)&(e))"
- Court in Div. 3, People v. Magallon, A150194 (Panel Atty Susan Jordan), holds D entitled to petition for misdemeanor reduction
  - Even where underlying crime was maintaining a place for manufacturing, storing or selling marijuana (not just simple possession)
  - Even where conviction was from a plea bargain
  - Court relies on reasoning of Page and Romanowski to find terms of statute do not limit eligibility
